7.	Progress: The comparison started in October 1998. In January 2001, the last measurements of the pilot laboratory were completed. In September 2001 the Draft A report was finished and sent to the participants for comments. In March 2002 the revised version of the Draft A report was sent to the participants. In June 2002, the third version of the Draft A was completed. All participants agreed on this version of the report, so it was transformed in a Draft B report. This Draft B report was submitted to the support group of this comparison. In the mean time, a proposal was made for linking this EUROMET comparison to the corresponding CCEM comparison. After including some minor changes as proposed by the support group, the report and the linking documents were submitted to the EUROMET technical chairman for electricity. The report has been sent to the BIPM to include the results in the key comparison database.
